Jošanica

The architectural style of Jošanica is Morava architectural school.

Ravanica

Built between in 1370 and 1380s, Ravanica is the famous Prince Lazar's foundation, where he was buried after his death in the Kosovo battle. Since then, Ravanica has been a pilgrim's destination and an important center of cultural activities and the Serbian people's assemblies.

Manasija

Manasija, also known as Resava (Serbian Cyrillic: Pecaba), is a Serb Orthodox monastery near Despotovac, Serbia, founded by Despot Stefan Lazarević between 1407 and 1418. It is one of the most significant monuments of medieval Serbian culture and it belongs to the "Morava school".

Tourism

When the Aqua Park and Zoo opened, the tourism rate in Jagodina started to rise exponentially. More attractions were added in order to increase tourism. In April 2015, a new artificial waterfall was opened in the park "Potok". It was constructed in only twelve days, spanning the height of twelve meters. It is one of the longest waterfalls in Serbia, and it cost around 7 million dinars to complete. Jagodina attracted around 500,000 people in 2014 and 2015, and that number is expected to increase in the future. Besides those attractions, the city has a stadium and a sport centre, which provide space for sporting events.

Tourist attractions

In the city there are 3 museums: Museum of naive and marginal art, Regional museum Jagodina and Museum of wax figures Jagodina. Also, there are 3 monasteries nearby Jagodina: Ravanica, Manasija and Josanica. More about these attractions could be found on <http://serbia.superodmor.rs/>
